

AUSTRIAN COUNT WAS MURDERER

Slayer of Crown Prince and Paramour Died in Denver.

SEARCHING FOR BODY

By Sun Leased Wire.
Denver, Colo., Nov. 3.—When the Austrian consul called on Mayor Speer today and asked his aid in finding the body of Count Louis Von Vetsera, who died here last Saturday, the consul gave official verification of the story that the count was the slayer of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria and his paramour, Countess Maria Vetsera.

Thus far it has not developed under what name the count lived and died here, but the consul says his government has kept itself informed as to his whereabouts and knows that the count died here Oct. 30.

The consul has been instructed to find the body, have it properly identified and he will then be given further instructions concerning it.

GOMPERS DECLINES TO DISCUSS HIS CASE

Lawyers Differ as to What Action the Court of Appeals May Take.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who has returned to this city, declined today to discuss further the action of the court of appeals in sustaining the jail sentences imposed on him, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison in the Buck's Store and Range company case.

Mr. Gompers and Messrs. Mitchell and Morrison expect to have a conference with their attorneys, Ralston and Siddons of this city and ex-Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, within a few days, when a course of procedure will be decided on.

The mandate of the court of appeals will not be sent down to the court which inflicted the sentence for 15 days and within that time the attorneys representing Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison must take steps to bring the case before the supreme court of the United States.

There is considerable speculation among lawyers and others who have followed the action of the court of appeals that the court of appeals will take on a motion for a writ of error or one of error.

It is contended by some lawyers that neither a writ of error nor appeal lies in this case and it will be necessary in order to bring the case before the supreme court to apply to that court for a writ of certiorari.

WROTE WILL ON WALL OF ROOM AND DIED

By Sun Leased Wire.
Savannah, Ga., Nov. 3.—Peter G. Leist, 50, was found dead in a chair today at his residence on the Augusta road. Acute indigestion or heart failure is thought to have been the cause of death.

He had written his will on the wall of the room where he had been rooming, an indication that he feared death by heart disease.

He left his son Peter, 8 years old. He named Henry or Harry Dreyer of Brooklyn, N. Y., as his heir in the event of the death of his son.

AUTO IN TREE TOP

Crashed Through Railing of High Bridge and Caught by Branches.

Pittsburg, Nov. 3.—(Spl.)—While traveling at high speed in an automobile, H. W. Franks and George Thomas of Uniontown, had a narrow escape from death near Greensburg.

A steering knuckle broke and the machine crashed through the wooden railing of a high bridge.

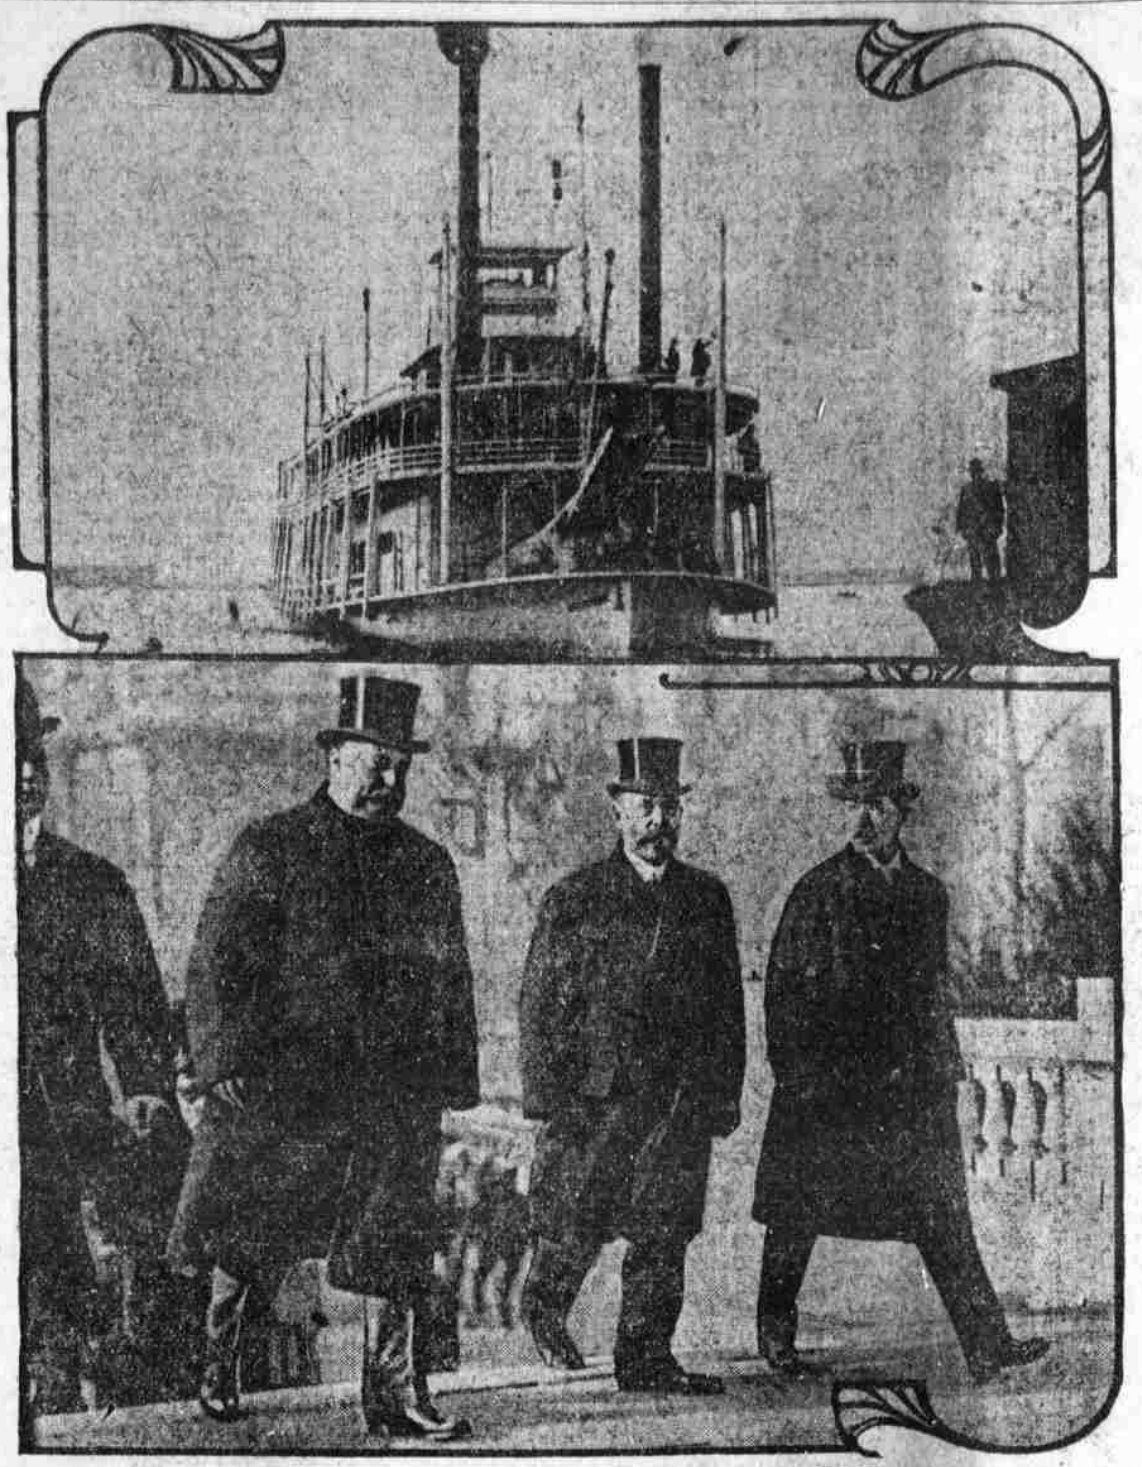

Thomas and Franks had no time to jump. They clung to the machine, which, after breaking through the railing, turned a somersault and alighted in the branches of a large tree, 30 feet below. One of Thomas' ears was torn off.

When the machine struck the tree the branches held it and both men worked their way to the ground.

PRESIDENT TAFT EN ROUTE TO WATERWAYS CONVENTION; HIS DEPARTURE FROM ST. LOUIS.

When the fleet of steamboats with President Taft and the delegates to the waterways convention steamed from St. Louis it bore the most distinguished body of men ever embarked on the Mississippi river. There were the governors of more than half the states, many senators and congressmen and an army of business men. Vice President Sherman did not accompany the fleet, and Mr. Taft had a little joke at his expense when he spoke at Cairo. He said: "Did you ever contemplate what would happen to the nation if this fleet went down? The vice president evidently had some such thought in mind when he departed the trip at St. Louis." One of the accompanying pictures shows the president waving goodbye to St. Louis from the deck of the steamboat. The other is a snapshot of the president in company with Hamilton Crawford and A. L. Stephens of the St. Louis waterways committee. Mr. Crawford is the man next to the president.

Mind Tortured, Spirit Broken, Woman Pleads In Own Behalf

"Meg", Original of Beautiful Portraits, Defends Herself in French Assize Court in Paris.

By Sun Leased Wire.
Paris, Nov. 3.—Mme. Steinhil, innocent or guilty, will not need to reproach herself tonight for the manner in which she endured her four hours ordeal today. She parried with lightning like rapidity every thrust of the presiding judge, who, in the French Assize court, acts as the prosecuting attorney.

Once she drove him from his line of questioning by the scornful way in which she said: "You seem to take me for a common street walker." She moved the audience to a murmur of agreement when she replied to the judge's comments of her contradictions before the magistrate who conducted the preliminary inquiry, saying "when a poor woman has been kept for seven hours a day facing a magistrate who keeps harassing her with questions and never ceasing to repeat: 'I know you are guilty. You killed your husband and mother, when your mind has been tortured and your spirit broken, are contradictions unnatural?'"

When Mme. Steinhil appeared in court, dressed in black and wearing a small toque, with a long black veil behind, a feeling of disappointment went through the male audience. Was this the beautiful "Meg" the original of all the seductive portraits that had appeared in the newspapers? Surely a year's imprisonment and her anxious position had had their effect. Her eyes alone retained their wondrous beauty.

After she had conducted her case for a short time, however, her old time charm reasserted itself, and it was understood how this lovely woman had achieved her position in Paris. She was in turn beseeching, imploring, and menacing. Her silvery voice was now full of pathos, and then vibrated with indignation. She needed no advocate. She made all her points with the utmost point.

She taunted the prosecution for not daring to confront her with her lover, Bordere, whose evidence is the government's strongest arguments. Her indignant exclamation: "I have never sold myself; made Judge Valles confess that she was no money leech. M. Brieux, in his play 'The Red Robe' has not argued more powerfully for a change in the French form of investigating crime than did Mme. Steinhil."

"If you seek light," she exclaimed, why not have investigations public. This is my first opportunity to publicly face the charges against me. I will speak."

It must be said that the dominant thought of the audience was "what a splendid actress."

"HIGH TIME TO DO SOMETHING; COURT HAS DEFIED THE LAW."

—Attorney Cook.

That the Socialists will be with the Democrats in their fight against the East Ohio Gas company was shown when Attorney Aller Cook gave a bitter denunciation on the public square of the party which upholds it and the supreme court of the state for its decision.

"Why," said Mr. Cook, "the gas company is trying to asphyxiate the city and hypnotize the voters into doing its bidding."

"For seventy years the law of the state has been that when a service corporation, like the East Ohio Gas company, enters a city it cannot withdraw as long as it is in business. And yet the supreme court has defied the law, defied the evident will of the people, and listened to the corporation and its Judas lawyers."

"When John D. Rockefeller and the East Ohio Gas company can say to the 60,000 people of Akron and the almost 60,000 people of Canton, as they did say with effect in the Canton council chamber, 'you must drop all litigation against us and give us back that $45,000. I tell you it is high time to do something.'"

WHO KNOWS WHERE MISS DAISY DEWALT WENT?

Her Father Has Suspicion That She Has Been Kidnaped.

Where is Miss Daisy C. Dewalt? Has she been kidnapped or did she elope?

These are questions that her father, John W. Dewalt, of 1928 Charles street, would like to have answered by the police. He is inclined to the belief that she has been kidnapped and will swear out a warrant for the arrest of William Crouch, a young man who until yesterday could be found at 1934 Charles street, just a few doors distant from the Dewalt home.

Miss Daisy is seventeen years of age, just past, and Wednesday morning both left their homes dressed in their best, and it is thought that they went to Salem. The father thinks they were married by this time.

THREE BIG PLANTS KNOCKING AT THE DOOR OF THIS CITY

Board of Trade Will Meet This Afternoon to Consider Propositions of Plants.

Charles A. Dougherty, president of the board of trade, has issued a call for a meeting of the directors this afternoon at 4 o'clock to pass upon the applications of three companies, one an old established one, which are knocking at the doors of the city for admission.

Reckoning on the basis of five persons to each employee, the three companies will bring to the city a population of nearly 2000 if all are admitted and the assertions of the managers be not exaggerated.

"The meeting of the directors will be held in the Courtland hotel," said Mr. Dougherty, "and every member is urgently asked to attend."

The first and probably the greatest of the three is the new rolling mill, a company in which much Canton capital is invested. The second is an outside company manufacturing automobiles, and the third an old established concern which makes gasoline engines and promises to employ 300 men when in full operation.

PANELLA TRIAL STARTS; JURY VISITS THE HOUSE

The trial of Mrs. Panella, charged with the killing of her husband, Tony Panella, and Clara Pizanti, August 1, was begun in Judge Ambler's court Wednesday.

The jury that will decide the case was soon impaneled. Three jurors were excused for cause and one was peremptorily challenged. The jury is: T. R. Ballard, William Finley, John Ever, Frank Shisler, Clark Elisea, Charles Smathers, Orlando Smith, Albert Hurrell, Joseph Faust, John Kitt, Benjamin Shirk, Tobias Schott.

Prosecutor Krichbaum and Assistant Prosecutor Pontius will represent the state in the trial and Attorneys Craine, Snyder and Luther Day have charge of the defense.

Mrs. Panella, the woman charged with second degree murder, was brought to the court room before the trial began. She does not betray any signs of worry over the trial and carried herself with the same degree of confidence that she used when she was arrested for the crime on August 1.

Assistant Prosecutor Pontius made the opening statement to the jury and read the two indictments under which the accused is being tried.

Attorney J. B. Snyder for the defense, outlined the contentions of the case on the behalf of the accused.

Immediately after the jury was impaneled a motion was made that the jurors be escorted to the Panella home, corner Liberty and Douglas street, where the crimes were committed.

Balliff Alexander accompanied the jury to the place.

SCHOOL BOYS ON STRIKE

Cleveland West High Pupils Complain of Poor Lunches and Double Sessions.

Cleveland, Nov. 3.—(Spl.)—Over 200 boy and girl West high students went on strike Wednesday. They demand single sessions and better lunches.

Strikers come principally from the two upper classes principally. All boy juniors and seniors are out. Many girls, are with them. Second and first-year students were joining them Wednesday afternoon.

Tuesday the pupils had to wait an hour and a half for lunch on account of poor service. The lunch they got was poor and high priced, they claimed. But they say, was rammed. They had been discontented with double sessions several weeks.

GAS CONFERENCE WEDNESDAY

City Solicitor and Attorneys For Company Hold Session.

Nothing is Decided

City Solicitor Blake and Attorneys Pomeroy and Smith, representing the city in the case against the East Ohio Gas company, held a long conference Wednesday in regard to what course was best to pursue in regard to the hearing of the injunction proceedings at Millersburg today.

Attorney Welty said that the attorneys for the gas company were preparing to go to Millersburg for the hearing and that he was waiting word from the city's representatives before further action was taken.

He expected them to consent to a withdrawal, but it is understood that no conclusion was arrived at.

By Sun Leased Wire.

The most severely hurt are: J. F. Johnson, Des Moines, hip broken, gashed about head.

GUNS, PISTOLS AND DYNAMITE SHOT

"BLOODY BREATHITT'S" REIGN OF TERROR THE WORST EVER EXPERIENCED.

SOLDERS USELESS

By Sun Leased Wire.
Lexington, Ky., Nov. 3.—The reign of terror at Jackson, the county seat of "Bloody Breathitt," last night was the worst the citizens of that feud ridden section have ever experienced.

Early in the afternoon the mountaineers, many of them intoxicated, began to arrive and as soon as the election returns began coming in and they saw that their candidate was in a fair way to be elected, they began firing pistols and guns and exploding dynamite bombs.

Thousands of shots were fired in the streets between 8 o'clock last night and 2 o'clock this morning. The soldiers which had been sent here to prevent a riot, were unable to interfere, as they were without ammunition.

The law office of C. H. Pollard in which the newspaper correspondents and many editors, a number of them women, had assembled to watch the election returns, was shelled by bullets and many persons narrowly escaped injury.

DEFENDS CHURCH IN FERRER CASE

YALE PROFESSOR SAYS CATHOLIC HAD NO CONNECTION WITH THE EXECUTION.

TRIED TO STOP IT

By Sun Leased Wire.
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 3.—Speaking today of the responsibility for the execution of Prof. Ferrer in Barcelona, Prof. Henry Rosemann Lang, professor of romance, languages and literature at Yale said:

"The Roman Catholic church had absolutely no connection with the execution of Prof. Ferrer in Spain. The affair was entirely in the hands of the military and civil authorities. In fact, the church was so much opposed to his execution that the religious authorities tried to interfere through the Pope, but did not take action until too late."

"Barcelona, as it is the largest city in Spain near France and Italy, is a hot bed of anarchists. The authorities in trying to stamp this out have adopted stern measures as best the case. Any city which is overrun with aliens is apt to be a seat of disturbance and Barcelona has been in a state of terror for the past few weeks. When a condition like this arises, hasty action must be taken and while the trial was a very summary one, leniency could not reasonably be expected."

"The thing to be deplored is the summary and perhaps insufficient trial but Ferrer was well known as an anarchist leader and his execution from the authorities point of view was just expeditions."

"I can only state again that the Roman Catholic Church was greatly opposed to his execution and is in no way to be held culpable."

NOT CARBOLIC ACID

Given in Mistake for "Pine Tar" as Stated in Wednesday's Morning News.

The Morning News was in error when it stated that Mr. Hill received carbolic acid for "Pine Tar" at the Bolander drug store. The article said was a cressol compound which is a pine tar preparation. The odor being similar to that of carbolic acid caused the misstatement and hence the Morning News gladly makes the correction.
